eagle نسر	goldfinch طائر الحسون	kiwi طائر الكيوي	echidna آكل النمل الشوكي

The Desert Safari

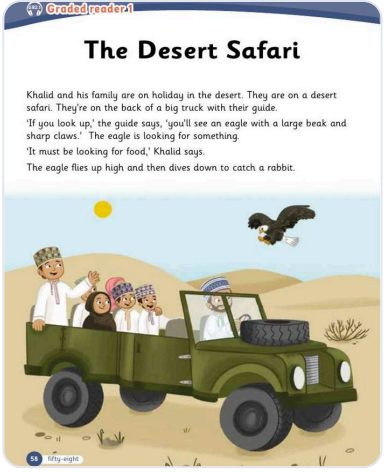

- Khalid and his family go on a desert safari in a big truck with a guide
- If you look up, you'll see an eagle with a large beak and sharp claws.
- The eagle flies up high and dives down to catch a rabbit
- Near the sand dunes they see gazelles with long horns
- Khalid sees a scorpion. If it stings you, you'll need to go to hospital!

Readers' comments

- A goldfinch has a red face and yellow and black wings
- Kiwi birds from New Zealand have long beaks but they can't fly
- The platypus is a mammal, but it lays eggs
- In Australia there are camels, the echidna and the emu (a bird that cannot fly)

Exam tips (A2 Key)

- If you think you have the correct answer, look at the other two again to check they are wrong
- Speaking: don't worry about mistakes. It's more important to communicate

Graded reader 1

The Desert Safari

Khalid and his family are on holiday in the desert. They are on a desert safari. They're on the back of a big truck with their guide.

'If you look up,' the guide says, 'you'll see an eagle with a large beak and sharp claws.' The eagle is looking for something.

'It must be looking for food,' Khalid says.

The eagle flies up high and then dives down to catch a rabbit.

Graded reader: The Desert Safari (p.58)

✏️ Examples

What did the eagle catch?

Answer: a rabbit

Why did they leave quickly?

Answer: because a scorpion can sting

⭐ Remember

- Use the first conditional to give warnings: If it stings you, you'll need to go to hospital
- Talk about animals: What's your favourite animal? What does it look like?

⚠️ Watch out

- ✗ Kiwis can fly. ✓ Kiwis can't fly.

🧩 Activity: Write a comment for the WOW! Magazine about an animal you saw
