Theme 2: Those Teenage Things

✉️ Teenage Angst: Writing to a Problem Page

Lesson 2-5
Book pages 26-27

💡 Big idea: Teenagers write to a problem page for advice. We read letters, proofread with a correction code, and write an informal letter.

🎯 I will learn:
- Understand and use a simple correction code for proofreading
- Use phrases for informal letters
- Write an informal letter to a problem page

📖 Key words

angst قلق	proofread يدقق الكتابة	edit يحرر / يصحح
counsellor مرشد	pressure ضغط	career مهنة

The three letters

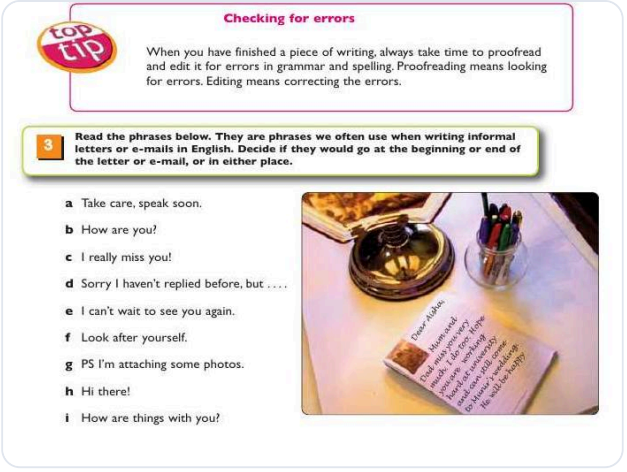

- Nabil: problems playing football with friends
- Taha: worried about schoolwork and homework
- Munira: confused about choosing a career

Checking for errors

- Proofread: look for errors in grammar and spelling
- Edit: correct the errors
- Use a simple code, e.g. Sp = spelling, Gr = grammar, P = punctuation

Informal letter phrases

- Beginning: Hi there! / How are you? / Sorry I haven't replied before, but ...
- End: Take care, speak soon. / Look after yourself. / I can't wait to see you again.

Checking for errors

When you have finished a piece of writing, always take time to proofread and edit it for errors in grammar and spelling. Proofreading means looking for errors. Editing means correcting the errors.

3 Read the phrases below. They are phrases we often use when writing informal letters or e-mails in English. Decide if they would go at the beginning or end of the letter or e-mail, or in either place.

a Take care, speak soon.
b How are you?
c I really miss you!
d Sorry I haven't replied before, but ....
e I can't wait to see you again.
f Look after yourself.
g PS I'm attaching some photos.
h Hi there!
i How are things with you?

Top tip: Checking for errors + informal phrases (p.27)

✏️ Examples

Beginning or end? "Look after yourself."

Answer: End of the letter.

⭐ Remember

- Always leave time at the end to proofread your writing.

⚠️ Watch out

- Writing "Dear Sir" in a letter to a friend. → Use informal openings like "Hi" or "Dear Ali".

🧩 Activity: Write a letter (100 words) to a problem page about a school problem, then proofread it.

✅ Check yourself

1. What does "proofread" mean?
2. One opening phrase
3. What was Taha worried about?

Answers: (1) Look for errors in writing ، (2) How are you? ، (3) His schoolwork
